

COP25 Sponsorship Opportunities

SCI maintains a presence at the annual United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP) as part of our advocacy efforts. At COP25, SCI will spread the word of solar cooking to the policy makers, government officials, and international media in attendance through our exhibit booth, press conferences, and panel presentations. COP25 is a great opportunity for SCI to highlight the climate-friendly solution of solar cooking.

If you, your business, or someone you know is interested in getting involved, our COP25 sponsorships are available now! Our limited number of sponsorship opportunities will bring attention to not only SCI and the solar cooking movement, but also to your company, organization, or business.

Sponsorships must be paid in full by November 15th to be included in this pivotal event.
